

Local Planning Policy No. 4 – Advertising Signage
Responsible Business Unit:	Development and Regulatory Services
Date of Adoption: 27 June 2023	Date Revised:

Purpose

- To define advertising signage that is exempt from requiring development approval.
- To establish guidelines that apply to advertising signage requiring development approval.
- To identify advertising signage that generally will not be supported by the Town.

Objectives

The objectives of this policy are to:

- encourage advertising signage that preserves and enhances the amenity of the locality and positively contributes to the character, vibrancy and viability of businesses within the Town;
- ensure the safe and efficient use of roads from which advertising signage is visible;
- protect the future use of the zoned land by recognising the temporary nature of advertising signage; and
- avoid the proliferation of advertising signage that may contribute to visual clutter, especially along transport corridors.

Scope

This policy applies to all zoned land and local reserves under the Town of Cottesloe’s Local Planning Scheme No. 3 (LPS3) but excludes land reserved under the Metropolitan Region Scheme (MRS), which may require approval from the Western Australian Planning Commission (WAPC).

Where any provision of this policy is inconsistent with local law, the provision of this policy prevails. However, all signage will still require an application for a Sign Licence which will be assessed separately to the planning process against the requirements of any relevant local law(s).

Advertising signage requiring development approval

The following forms of advertising signage are often considered to be incompatible with the existing and desired future character of the Town:

- Large Digital Format Sign (LDFS);
- advertising mural; and
- advertising signage not included in this policy, excluding public works or directional signs.

Proposals for these specific types of signs require a development application. Generally, they will only be considered for approval where they are for a change or replacement of an existing similar approved sign on the same lot. It can be demonstrated that the proposed sign will not adversely affect the amenity of the locality.

Heritage protected places

For advertising signage proposed in heritage-protected places:

- Original and early signage (including remnants) that contribute to the cultural heritage significance of a heritage-protected place shall be retained and conserved;
- the location of previous original and early signage should be considered as appropriate locations for the placement of new signs;
- signage shall not obscure architectural features, detailing, windows or door openings on a heritage-protected place; and
- signs shall not visually dominate or detract from the architectural characteristics of a heritage-protected place. Matters to be considered in this regard include the location, scale, size, materials, design and the cumulative effects of signage.

Advertising signage not supported

The following advertising signage will generally not be supported:

- New hoarding signs or billboards; and
- bill posting visible from a public place.
- Advertising signage suspended from or tethered to any building/structure (with or without supporting framework) and made of paper, plastic, fabric or similar materials. The term includes balloons, blimps, inflatables, bunting and kites.
